EUREKANA 1968

Bob,
You're quite a guy and it's been fun working with you and I hope to see you at the pool this year and at the games. You're a great runner (it seems to me) and I can't wait to see you run next year.
I guess it's up to you to make that E.H.S. football team.
Thanks a lot for
Lots of Luck
Dora

To a really great guy and a very good friend. It has been a blast knowing you.
Good luck in football next year.

Bible Club

Although religion is not profitable when stuffed down one's throat, an extra-curricular club was formed to give students an opportunity to participate in non-denominational meetings. Bible Club proved to be a successful effort this year. Mrs. Huskey was the sponsor.

Clubs Appeal to Special Interests

Radio Club

The Eureka High Amateur Radio Club, better known as the "Hams," has helped to enrich the minds of several boys. They are: Bill Hudson, president; Hugh McWilliams, Vice-President; Wayne Mueller, Secretary-Treasurer; Dennis Adams, Bill Bobb, Robert Deuschele, Matthew McWilliams, Mr. Waters and Mr. Beck sponsored the club which has participated in the Civil Defense Program. F.H.A. Plans, Prepares, Produces

As long as there has been a Future Homemakers of America, Eureka High School has had a chapter. For over 20 years the E.H.S. chapter has served its school and the surrounding community.

This year the club took up a collection of toys for a children's home, caroled at an old folk's home, took a tour of St. Louis's cultural exhibits, and, of course, gave the annual Mother-Daughter and Father-Daughter Banquets.

Each month F.H.A. tried to have one business meeting and one recreational activity. At each monthly business meeting a speaker developed a different topic from the Program of Work. The 53 members have completed another very successful year!!

G.A.A. Is Exercise, Bumps, and Bruises

SEATED: Mary Orick, President; Debbie Freeman, Vice President. STANDING: Debby Sullivan, Secretary; Marcia Griggs, Sergeant at Arms; Becky Prater, Treasurer.

G.A.A. is a "fun club" for "fun girls". During the past year the organization has been skating, going to hockey games, having loud parties and excitement, excitement, and more excitement.

The girls were awarded emblems, letters, pins, or guards for their athletic achievements during the 67-68 year of G.A.A.

With all these things in mind, the members of the Girls' Athletic Association go on to another year of school or career with the leadership and responsibility training.

It's the E That Counts

The members of the Lettermen's Club are the school's athletic leaders. Each sport is represented in this club by admitting those boys who have earned a letter in any one of the sports. An initiation is held in the spring for new members.

The members sponsor the Lettermen's Club Store by selling athletic equipment to all boys' gym classes.

Development in sportmanship, leadership, school spirit, and character are the basic gains achieved by joining this club.

Officers: Roger Branson, president; Steve Jeffries, vice-president; Mike Niehoff, sec.-treasurer; Jim McReynolds, sergeant-at-arms.

National Honor Society consists of juniors and seniors chosen by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Only the top 15% of the two classes are eligible to be inducted into the society.

This year, N.H.S. began with nine members, and four new members were chosen in the fall. The spring found several seniors and juniors chosen. The new members were initiated in very impressive ceremonies. National Honor Society also participated in the Eureka High Homecoming parade by having a float.

Mrs. Patterson and Miss Smith were the sponsors.

Heat Affects Spirit of Pep Club

Encouragement of sportsmanship was brought out strongly by the cheerleaders and Pep Club sponsors, Mr. Hyde and Mr. Wells.

Having both Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders to cheer for our teams in both football and basketball also helped boost spirit and made the work of the cheerleaders easier.

Football Comes of Age at E.H.S.

Scoring is more official now!

In the fifth year of football at E.H.S., the Wildcats completed their most successful season. The Varsity completed the season with their fourth victory to even the record at 4 wins and 4 losses. The Junior varsity and the Freshmen each suffered only one loss. The J.V.'s record was 3-1, and the Freshman team's was 4-1.

Despite playing in the worst kinds of weather--rain, mud, fog, snow--the teams managed to do extremely well. The enthusiasm of the pep club, the Booster Club of parents, and the many other cheerers helped to increase the spirit of the players.

Homecoming

As you approached the gym on the Friday night before Homecoming Day, you could hear the high spirited cheering of the entire Eureka student body. Now and then peals of laughter filtered through as the audience watched the skits performed by the cheerleaders . . . Then a silence followed by happy applause as the Queen of Eureka's Homecoming was announced . . . spunky, vivacious Lawanna McCarron.

1967 E.H.S. Style

The crowd formed two long chains for the snake dance and laughed and tugged their way around the huge bon-fire. The Pep Band played and Wanda Huskey twirled her fire baton causing beautiful streaks of light to cut the black night.

Ta-ta-tum!! The drums of E.H.S. Marching Band signaled the start of the big Homecoming Parade Saturday morning. Floats to delight the sports fan's wildest imagination, followed in slow procession up the street and encircled the football field for judging.

The big game finally arrived Saturday afternoon and the Wildcats met the Trojans and lost. However, the highlight of the afternoon was the coronation at halftime. Queen Lawanna was crowned to the delight of the crowd. She and her maids and their escorts--all members of the football team--posed for the cameras of their many friends.

The entire weekend was climaxed by the sock hop that evening. Everybody danced to music by the "Jesters." A record crowd attended the dance. At the conclusion, a group of elated, but tired people found their ways home.

Marching Band Displays Varied Routines

The E.H.S. marching band had a very busy season this year. Activities which they participated in were the Labor Day Parade, and the homecoming parade at Southeast Missouri State College. They also performed at many home football games making skilled formations at half-time.

Concert Band Presents Chopin to

Pep band adds enthusiasm to pep assemblies.

Fulfilling the position as a member of the concert band requires many hours of practice. Self-discipline becomes a virtue if one is to do an adequate job. Although concerts are few throughout the year, the performance is well-prepared, and the audience is always pleased. Since music is one of the most important activities in the school, being in the band gives one an air of distinction.

Officers: Anita Hooker, treasurer; Wanda Huskey, secretary; Eadie McLain, vice-president; Rick Curtis, president.

Without the dedication of the officers, activities would be without much preparation, and some would not exist. The time-consuming job of these few selected students usually help make a most successful year concerning the band and its performances.

'68 Juniors Present "Mr. Co-Ed"

On Thursday night, November 16, the Juniors presented a smash performance of "Mr. Co-ed" in the Eureka Junior-Senior High Auditorium.

The light comedy of "Mr. Co-ed", under the direction of Miss Eleanor Johnson, was presented to a capacity crowd.

"Charlie Brown" Visits

Holiday Gala

The efforts of FHA, FTA, GAA and Letterman's Club were very much appreciated as the Christmas party-goers stepped into the world of Charlie Brown's Christmas. They found friends watching them from the side wall.

The highlight of the dance came when The Sound of Souls took a break, and Snoopy and Santa Claus came for a short visit.

Jeff City Here We Come

A trip to Jefferson City was an exciting event for the Freshman Class in March. The Freshmen, accompanied by 3 teachers and 5 Booster Club members, toured the Capitol building and other noteworthy places in the city to widen their interests in the state government.

THE SWEETHEART

Juniors Claim Title "Big Puff '68"

The Powder Puff game, held March 27, provided more fun than a circus and all the excitement of a regular professional game.

Despite the fact that it was played at 3:30, there was a near capacity crowd including parents, teachers, alumni, and students.

The Junior girls managed to edge the Seniors, 16--19, in four six-minute quarters for the title of Big Puff '68.

SPRING

Home Ec. Features Young Generation

Home economics classes, under the supervision of Miss Gustafson and Miss Richardson, worked hard on their clothing projects for the annual spring fashion show staged April 4. "The Young Generation" theme proved that the talented young women of today are indeed an asset.

"Go Season"

If you are a boy between the freshmen and senior years of high school, and the only thing you can do is run fast enough to get away from a riled skunk, then you can be in track.

If, by chance, you happen to jump across a large fallen log while getting away from that skunk, then you could probably make a few hurdles.

No matter what your athletic ability is, there is always a "sprinting-good-time" in track.

Many boys, each year, find an exciting experience in EHS's track program.

Eureka High is lucky to have one of the most active choirs in the St. Louis area.

This year they presented "The Sound of Music" as their operetta.

The choir provided much joy and entertainment for the district citizens and the student body at the many school functions.

Miss Marie Harttman directs the choir, and Rodney Musgrave served as president this year.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra . . . in Disguise

Sounds of running scales upon strings can be heard in the distance on orchestra days. Hard work and loads of practice are on the agenda for any active orchestra member. Even with the hard work and practice, fun was a part of every practice session.

One of the most important performances during the year was accompanying the cast of the operetta in "The Sound of Music." The final performance was playing the constant strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" at Baccalaureate on June 4.

In Cowboys' Round-up, Indians Bite Dust

A large boot on the wall of the auditorium bearing the inscription "Victory for the Rough Riders" proved to be a good omen; the Cowboys finished the first quarter ahead of the Indians, and stayed ahead to win the game 73--55.

All the Cowboys agreed that the Indians fought so well that they were never sure of winning until the final buzzer sounded.

Eureka High School is founded upon the principles usually possessed by a leading college. With uncompromising dedication to sustain this stature, the members of the administration maintain a high school whose influence reaches to the far corners of the state of Missouri. In the position of service, each member is continually aware of his obligations to the school, but each member is also interested in the welfare of the students. With the continual dedication and earnest work of these people, E.H.S. has been made one of the best schools in the nation.

All year long the students are busy in club activities, the teachers are busy with classes and sponsoring individual activities, but alas! the principals are busier than anyone else, for they are responsible for the activities of everyone!

They do their best to maintain highly rated schools, along with trying their utmost to please all within the school environment. Bravo and hats off to the three men who must shoulder the responsibilities of EHS and EJHS.

Special Services

Although the definition of fine arts usually refers to painting, sculpture, and architecture, the fine arts courses at Eureka High School and Eureka Junior High School include art, band, choir, girls' and boys' glee clubs, orchestra and senior literature.

These courses can be classified as fine arts because "they appeal to the eye and ear alike," a definition for fine arts used by many.

No matter what the plans and desires might be, everyone's future includes a good background in the field of language arts. Here at Eureka such a background is provided through: English 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11; French I and II; and Latin I and II. Senior Literature, an English 12 course, provides an excellent introduction into critical analysis and documented research.

Technicians

In today's world a great emphasis has been placed upon Science and Math. Many schools have enlarged their science and math departments to keep pace with our active world. Eureka has also kept pace. A general science education becomes an exacting study of Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. Then for the more scientifically inclined, advanced studies are offered such as Advanced Biology and Advanced Chemistry. Algebra I and II and Geometry help broaden the field and prepare students with a new basis of mathematics. And for those who plan to go on in mathematical studies, Eureka offers Trigonometry and Math Analysis.

Not only should students grow mentally, but they must grow physically as well. In physical education they are taught the meaning of good sportsmanship and how it affects their lives. Physical education classes provide physical activities to improve posture, health, coordination, and physical development. As they improve their skills in activities they are improving their minds and bodies. They are on their way to becoming the men and women of tomorrow.

The Practical Arts Department of Eureka prepares students for success outside the classroom. The boys benefit by the drafting, electricity, woodworking, and general shop classes where they learn skills which they can use for their own use and to maintain a job. The girls receive essential training when they attend the home economics classes on child development, clothing construction, and elementary home economics. All students may take advantage of the many business courses offered. Shorthand, typing, business English and law, bookkeeping, and clerical office practice help prepare the student for the business world. The C.O.E. program was made possible by the cooperation of the businesses in the area. Students can now attend school and receive credits while they work. Everyone appreciates the library and study hall facilities.

Getting Used To Being Seniors We Were:

Our Senior year, that long-anticipated, long-in-coming year, arrived at last. As we entered the musty halls, a new sensation struck us all simultaneously . . . we're SENIORS!

The arrival of our Senior rings caused loads of commotion not only for a day, or week, but a month! Although the style and stone for the most part were similar, to each Senior, his seemed a little better.

Sports always seem to play an important part in the curriculum of the active Senior, but this year, we feel the enthusiastic bystanders at the sports events were made up of 100% spirit-filled Seniors!

Once a year, a special day rolls around in the agenda of the Seniors, when mourning seems to be a fad. Senior Black Day provided enjoyment for the whole school.

Bringing a mild climax to the active life of the Senior, was the Junior-Senior Prom. The ecstasy of the so-called "Ball" enthralled each Senior in a special way.

While stepping to the constant strains of Pomp and Circumstance, old memories flashed through our minds causing us to hold back the flow of tears trying to break through. As we finally walked across the stage, our minds were enlightened with a new thought . . . we're no longer Seniors . . . we're adults. Good-bye ole EHS.

Juniors Anticipate Senior-ity

The Junior class was the busiest group of students this year. Besides being friendly and outgoing in general, the Juniors and their sponsors accepted the project of giving the Junior-Senior Prom.

To raise funds for this elaborate affair they presented "Mr. Co-Ed", a most enjoyable play about an all-girl college. Juniors also sold cokes at the basketball games.

While ordering their rings the Juniors had high hopes for their Senior year, but this year will never be forgotten.

Two years of high school mixed well with experience and know-how brought our Sophomore year to an end. Hard work was blended with fun and laughs, with an election of County Government Day officials for spice. For extra decorations, six vivacious junior-varsity cheerleaders were added. For a LARGER quantity of experience and know-how, we look forward to two more years of high school.

This receipe serves its family and community for an action-packed Sophomore class.

Our sponsors were Mr. Beck, Miss DuLany, Miss Richardson, Mr. Scott, and Mrs. Stenerson.

Freshmen Are Off to a Successful Start

Unlike previsous classes, this year's freshmen class wasn't shy or frightened at the aspect of coming to E.H.S. They were excited and anxious and anticipated the opening of E.H.S.'s doors to them. 160 freshmen stormed our high school.

They proved themselves through hard work on the Homecoming float and parties. Andrea Stewart was elected president of the Frosh. Martha Webster assisted her as Vice President and Marilyn Haas accomplished her duties of sec.-treas.

Freshman Sponsors were: Miss Cookson, Coach David, Miss Harttman, Mrs. Kenning, Mrs. Stenerson, Mr. Waters, and Miss Williams.

Shoulders back, stomach in, head erect . . .

Christmas trees . . . can you believe this is for real?

Happy memories loomed before our eyes as we were handed our diplomas. More privileges were given to us and we had more fun at our parties than ever before. Our sports were exciting and and we were proud of our team.

Graduation won't be the only time those memories loom before us. As we say good-by to EJHS, they won't be pushed aside by the anticipation of EHS.

Could that be cartoons she's showing in home ec. class?

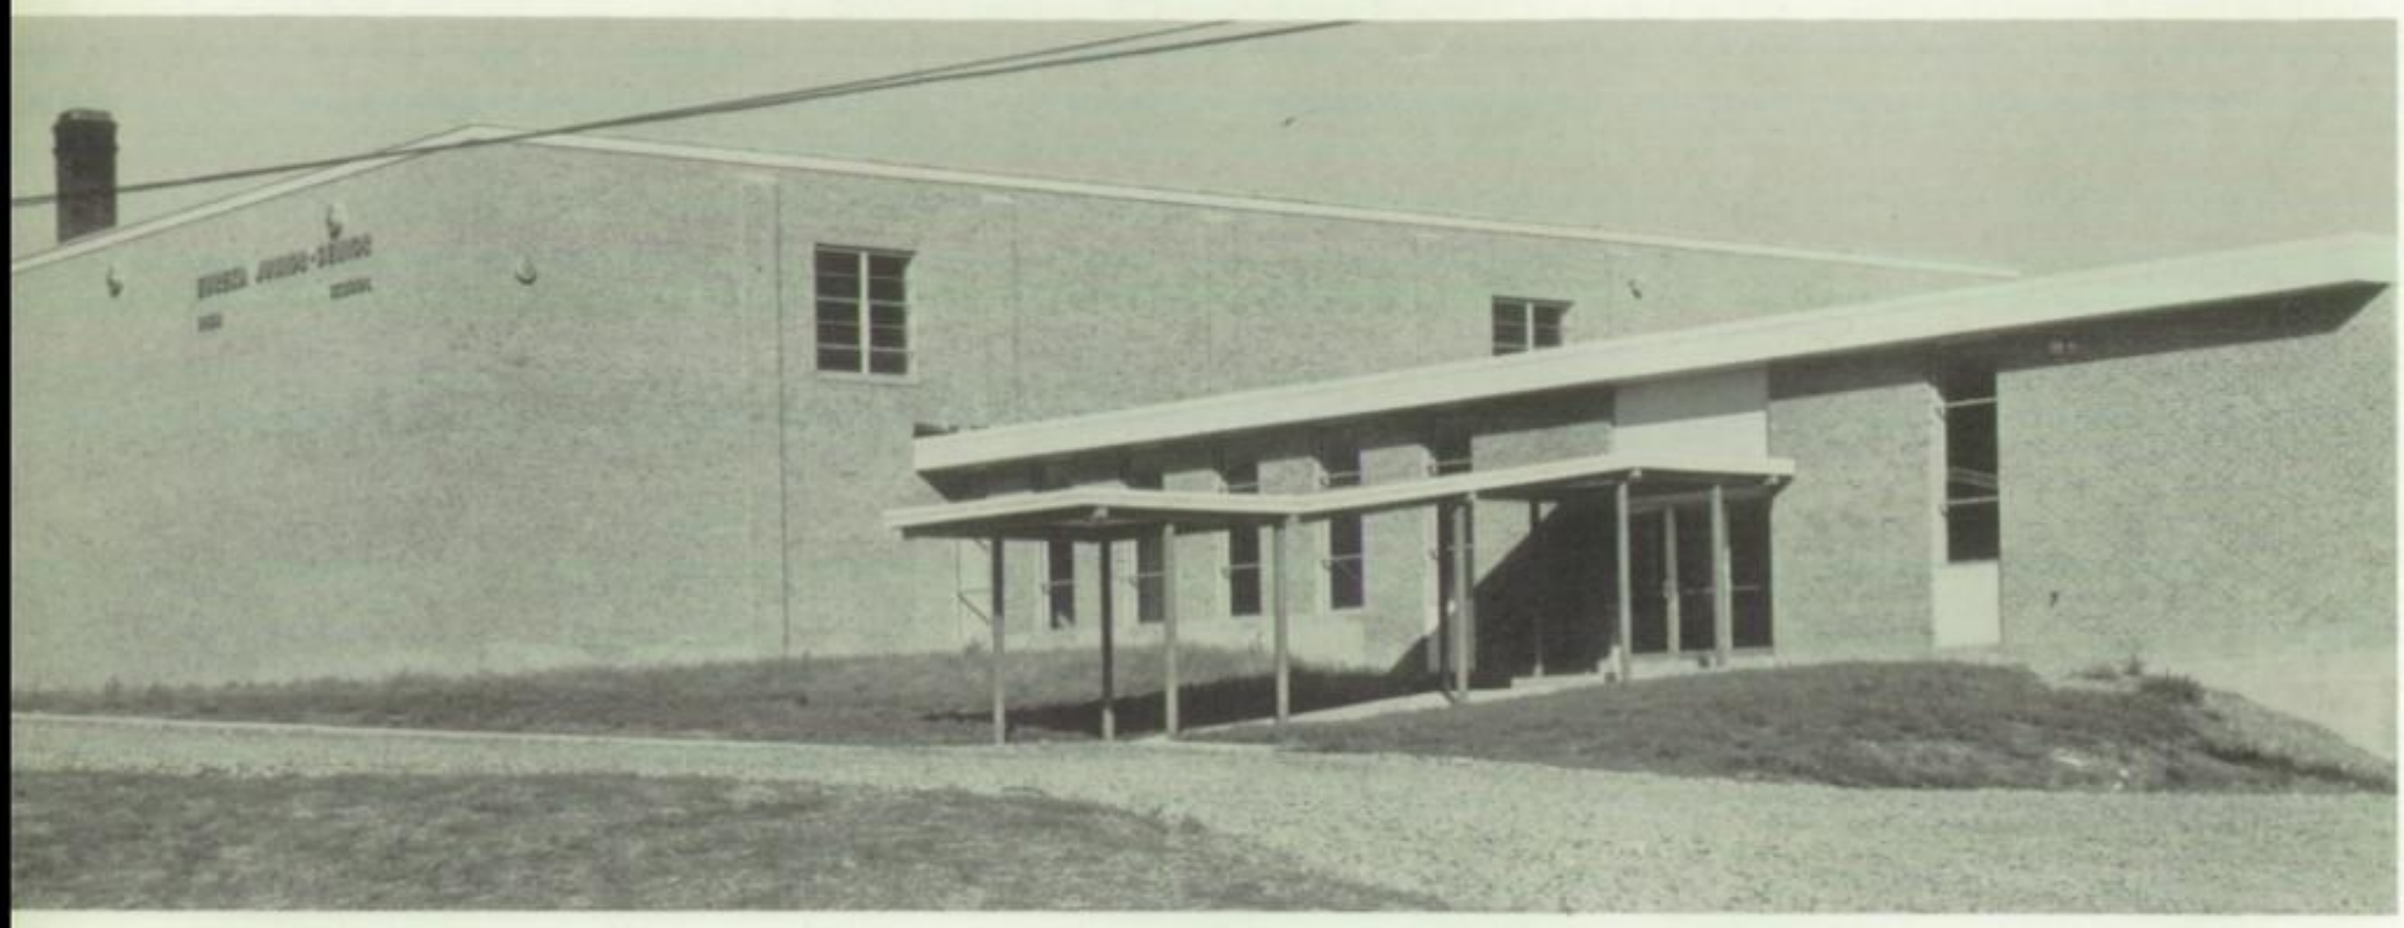
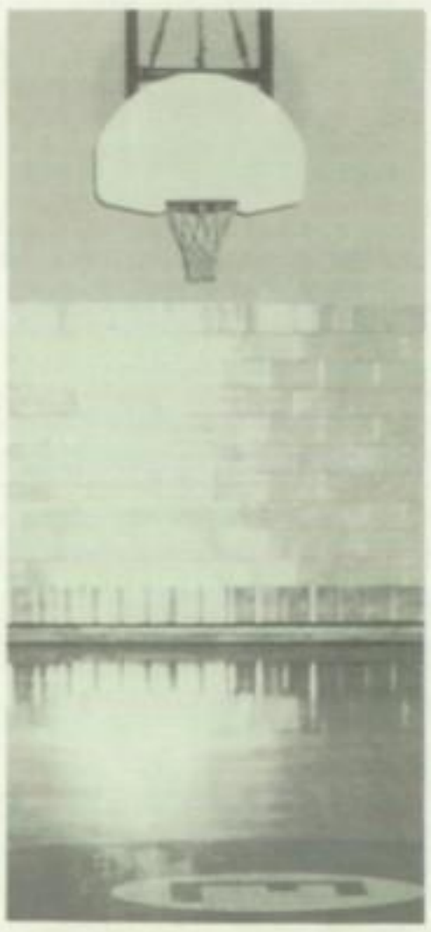
Wide-eyed and unaware, the new 7th graders wandered from class to class trying to "get the hang of it all." Growing accustomed to the new freedoms and more difficult classes, the new students began to take a look around for the "fun" side of school. Some landed in choir and band, others were happier on the basketball court or the track field.





JR. HIGH

Junior High Presents Opportunities, Challenges, and Responsibilities in Classes and Activities

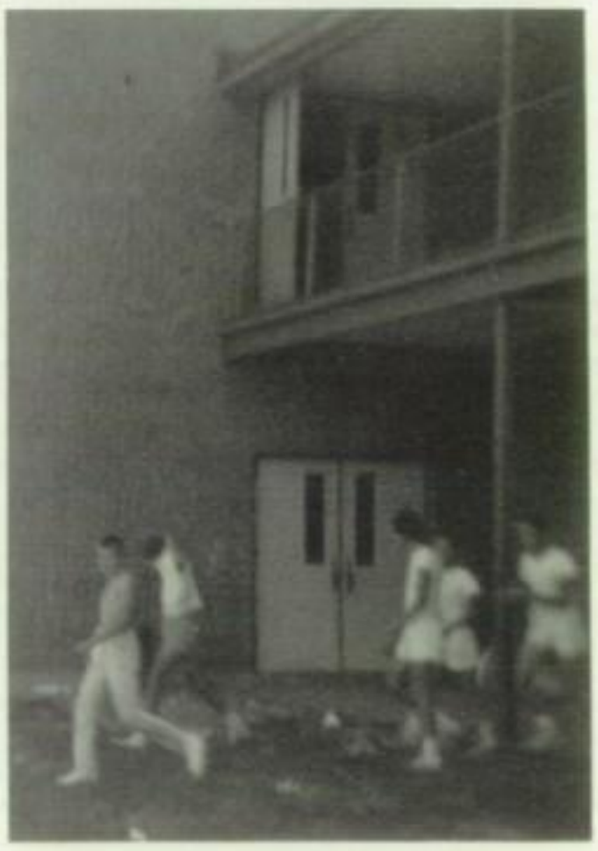
There's Nothing Quite



Like Junior High

Beginning each year, Eureka Jr. High elects new members for their Student Council. Each member is a chosen representative of his homeroom.

Among their duties, the Student Council is in charge of the school parties.

A strong student government is essential to a well run school and the junior high has certainly filled the bill.

"United We Stand . . ."

"We Print the Truth and Everything Else"

Students are eager to read the editions of the CRIER. It is written by the eighth grade English students. Mrs. Niehoff sponsors the group and also selects the members. The staff in turn chooses their editors.

Band Performs for Public in Holiday Concert

The Eureka Junior High Band shares with the various sports a large part of the years activities. Their techniques and skill improved as the year progressed. With Mr. Bodart's dedication and hard work, many eighth grade students are prepared to enter the high school band next year. Among the most important performances during the year was the concert in the Spring, and the Holiday Concert.

In the past four years the vocal music department of Eureka Junior High has grown tremendously. This enthusiasm may be credited largely to Mrs. Donna Bodart, who came to EJH four years ago.

There is now a 47 member choir, a selected glee club, and many smaller ensembles through which the students may display individual talents. Bringing enter-

Small in Size but Mighty in Spirit

Top or bottom for you?

Spirit! That's what these girls display. The excitement of both 7 and 8 grade games roared through the junior high halls as each game neared its peak. Finally as the moment neared, these six showed their ability in leadership as they boosted both the morale and spirit.

Junior High Springs Into Fashion

The Junior High has developed some excellent seamstresses, and this year is no let down.

The girls were started on simplified patterns to learn the basics and at times a frustrated cry could be heard as rippers were sought. The results, however, were well worth the effort and many proud girls went home with their custom made fashions.

Mrs. Laura Jensen, Nurse

Mrs. Jensen, our school nurse, is available to students of the Rockwood district. She provides health services and counseling to those who require it during school hours.

They Keep Us Healthy and Happy

The cafeteria staff at Eureka arrives early every morning to prepare hot lunches for Eureka and five other schools in the district. Their hours of labor are appreciated, as hundreds of lunches are bought and served daily.

Mrs. Nola Schott, Mrs. Jewell Bennett.

Mrs. Anna Pullen, Mrs. Hilda Smith, Mrs. Marie Huskey, Mrs. Delores Branson, Mrs. Sis Gudermuth, Mrs. Blanche Donovan.

The corps of bus drivers at Eureka is a group of responsible adults who spend many hours every week transporting students to and from school. They also contribute extra hours to take students and faculty sponsors to sports, music, and educational activities.

Mrs. Toby Whitaker, Keller Couch, Herb Brock, George Janke.

Drivers and Custodians Keep Us Safe and Sanitary

The maintenance of the four large buildings of Eureka High and Eureka Junior High is a full time job, one that is the daily occupation of the custodians.

They can be seen dusting, sweeping, and scrubbing during school days, and often during week-ends and holidays, too. They also assist in the cafeteria and in supplying the faculty with help in lifting and carrying large objects. Their work is not easy, but they do an exceptional job.

Mrs. Betty Romano, Isodore Blechle, John Smith, Lester McMullin.
